

Is your government delivering on its FP2020 commitment?

The London Summit on Family Planning in 2012 called for unprecedented global political will and resources to enable 120 million more women and girls to use contraceptives by 2020.

More and more low- and middle-income countries are pledging to expand access to rights-based family planning.

Check if your government has made a pledge and find out more at:
www.ippf.org/joiningvoices

You can ensure your government meets its commitments!

Three things you can do:

Submit a parliamentary question on what your government is doing to implement the UN Global Strategy on Women's and Children's Health.

Put FP2020 on the agenda of your parliamentary committee on health.

Meet with civil society organizations supporting FP2020 in your country. Email us at FP2020CSOs@ippf.org to be put in touch with civil society organizations in your country.

This postcard was produced by Joining Voices, a project of Countdown 2015 Europe Consortium and IPPF

Photos: IPPF/Chloe Hall/Gambia, IPPF/Peter Caton/India

IN SUPPORT OF

